

Radius Community Centre for Education and Employment Training

Is an organization that has offered programs and services to children and adults since 1970.

We help people to enhance their sense of personal worth and responsibility through education, community participation and employment training.

"We envision a healthy civic structure that unites all citizens — individuals, corporate, third sector and government to assume responsibility for the well being of the community."

What Business has been saying...

Radius staff worked alongside our staff to help create a computer based instruction and learning centre that helped improve employees' workplace literacy, overall communication skills, and improved worker receptiveness to lifelong learning. The attitudinal changes that have occurred on the manufacturing floor have decreased production mistakes and increased employee productivity. Thank you!

What participants are saying...

"I learned an immense amount of helpful information and techniques that I find will be useful in my personal and professional lifestyles."

"Areas covered are applicable to everyone and provide valuable insight into why we are the way we are, and why we do the things we do. Absolutely loved it!"

"I looked deeper into myself as a leader, and thought about what I do, or how I come across to others."
